

Pitted Windshield Mystery Stirs Up Puget Sound Area

SEATTLE (AP)—Superbomb, supernatural or superstition, there was no doubt about it today, the one million people in the Puget Sound country were stirred up by the case of the pockmarked windshields. Some were even blaming H-bombs.

The mayor of this city of 500,000, Allan Pomeroy, has asked President Eisenhower to "instruct appropriate federal agencies to co-operate with local authorities on an emergency basis."

Mass Hysteria Blamed

He told newsmen police laboratory tests indicated the damaging agent was a type of ash which could come from a pulp mill or "could be atomic material." Navy officials said, however, tests with a geiger counter at Whidbey Island Naval Station north of here showed no evidence of radioactivity.

There are doubters, too, who think an awful lot of people are victims of mass hysteria.

"Tommyrot," exploded Dr. D. M. Ritter, assigned by the chemistry department of the University of Washington to assist authorities seeking an answer to the riddle. "There isn't anything I know of that could be causing unusual breaks in windshields," he said after examining several and residue found on the cars.

"These people must be dreaming!"

Nothing Else Damaged

One thing is certain: the claims of damaged windshields are mounting into the thousands. And one thing else appears certain: no other glass objects seem to be suffering, not even side windows of cars.

The description of the damage varies from actual holes to pit marks covering every known shape. Chips, scratches, mars, pits, holes, crumbling, blemishes, blurs, blots and cracks. Some people even claim the damage has happened before their eyes.

First reports of the trouble started at Bellingham, Wash., some 90 miles north of Seattle, three weeks ago.

Law enforcement officials are convinced that some vandalism was involved in cases reported at Bellingham. Some, but not all, believe the vandalism spread.

Then, this week, other communities south of Bellingham said they had suffered an outbreak of the trouble. Wednesday night it broke out in Seattle.

Democrats Not Taking Blame In Housing Scandal

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Democratic members said today they will fight any effort by the Senate Banking Committee to focus on housing swindles which may have taken place in the Truman administration while glossing over more recent irregularities.

Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) said there was no such intent on the part of the committee, which plans to start public hearings Monday into reports of a multimillion-dollar scandal.

Loans Souped Up

The three Democrats—Senators Douglas of Illinois, Lehman of New York and Maybank of South Carolina—said that so far they had noted a lack of emphasis on exorbitant fees said to have been charged home owners for repairs financed with loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration. Officials have said these irregularities have continued virtually up until the present.

The other principal aspect of the investigation—also being carried on by at least three agencies of the executive branch—involves FHA-insured loans to build big apartment houses. The section of the act which authorized these loans expired in 1950, although some projects are said to be still under construction.

The Internal Revenue Service announced late Thursday that 1,149 corporations got loans to build apartment houses which cost less than the amount of the loans, with the corporations pocketing the difference.

Political Angle Denied

One result in many cases has been to force up rents in those projects, because the rents are tied to the size of the loan.

Capehart has said builders may have reaped a half-billion-dollar windfall under this program, designed to stimulate apartment buildings in the postwar years.

Douglas said in an interview: "It's perfectly natural for the Republicans to try and shift the blame to Harry Truman. We are certainly not going to try and cover up well-publicized abuses in apartment construction after World War II. But we're not going to allow the Republicans to divert attention from the currently scandalous operations in the field of repair loans."

Capehart said the question of partisan politics "hasn't entered my mind. There's no politics in this thing at all."

He said in a separate interview the home-repair "racket" is "equally as bad if not worse" than the apartment-project swindle and that he intended to give it a complete airing.

Atomic Secrecy Confuses Civil Defense System

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secrecy on atomic weapons progress has thrown civil defense planning into confusion and hindered development of a continental defense system, the American Society of Newspaper Editors was told today.

Paul Bock Jr., co-publisher of the Toledo Blade, reported to some 400 editors at their annual meeting that despite recent hydrogen bomb revelations, atomic developments have outrun public information.

Public Far Behind

"The public appears to be relatively far behind informationally than ever before," said Bock, the society's one-man watchdog committee on atomic information. The sensation created by Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss with his recent description of a 17-month-old hydrogen bomb explosion, Bock said, raises the question "whether the people must not be told much more much sooner."

"Witness the confusion of the Federal Civil Defense Administration," Bock said. "The potential of the H-bomb required a major change in emphasis in the teachings of this organization."

"Now the watchword is 'evacuation' and the training of rescue units is pinned to the needs of rescuing other areas rather than one's own city."

Information Law Proposed

"And what of the many stories about a cobalt bomb—which would set off a rain of destruction by the dropping of radioactive materials many miles from the site of the explosion?"

A major question of national defense policy, the editor went on, is whether more money should be spent on continental defense. "Clearly the answer to this is in the hands of the electorate," he said. "Does it have enough information on which to base a decision?"

Block's message was one section of a comprehensive report by the society's Committee on Freedom of Information headed by J. Russell Wiggins, managing editor of the Washington Post and Times-Herald.

General improvement in the information policy of federal agencies was reported. But Wiggins emphasized a need for a federal law to compel officials to divulge nonmilitary information if they refuse to do so voluntarily.

Closed Sessions Deplored

His committee deplored, in addition, the growing tendency of congressional committees to hold secret sessions. Forty per cent of the 3,105 committee and subcommittee meetings in the last session were held behind closed doors, the ASNE group said.

It commended efforts being made by newspaper groups in Washington and a number of states to open up the legislative hearings and win enactment of freedom-of-information laws.

As for improved information policy in federal agencies, the Wiggins report said five departments now are holding regular

Reds Bare Ruin Of U. S. Farmer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Radio Moscow has told the Russian people American farmers are going bankrupt at the rate of 100,000 a year, because too many tractors are being used.

If that sounds paradoxical for a country trying for years to boost its own tractor production, the explanation given by commentator Valentin Zorin on a broadcast picked up by government monitors here is this:

In the United States, only large farms can afford tractors. Two-thirds of American farmers have no tractors at all. Therefore small farmers find it impossible to compete against the big capitalist farmers.

Mechanization of agriculture "has brought veritable disaster to millions of farmers," Zorin said, and added: "every new tractor in agriculture means the ruin of one farm family or five tenants."

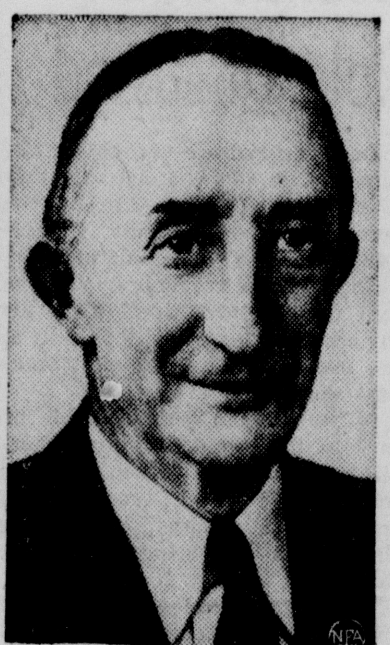

Zorin said the Eisenhower administration has done nothing to combat what he called an agricultural disaster.

Nervous Nations Assured Of U. S. Security Guard

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged today that a "fair share" of American troops will be maintained in Europe as long as a threat to the security of the Western nations exists.

In a six-point message to the prime ministers of six Western European countries, the President sought to assure French ratification of the European Defense Community (EDC) project by promising in effect that rearmament of West Germany would not be permitted to endanger France.

Bomb Data Promised

France long has sought such formal assurances before joining in the creation of a six-nation army designed as a bulwark against any Russian aggression. The proposed EDC has been ratified by Belgium, West Germany, Luxembourg and The Netherlands. Only Italy and France have yet to act.

The President also pledged continuation of efforts to provide for sharing with U. S. allies more information about the use and the effects of the hydrogen bomb and atomic weapons on military and civilian personnel.

Six-Point Message

In an administration statement of policy, he messaged all six nations from his vacation headquarters here that:

1. The United States will continue to maintain in Europe, including West Germany, such American troops "as may be necessary and appropriate to contribute its fair share of the forces needed for the joint defense of the North Atlantic area while a threat to that area exists."

2. The United States will consult with fellow signatories to the North Atlantic Treaty and with the EDC nations "on questions of mutual concern," including the armed forces strength to be placed at the disposal of the supreme commander in Europe, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther.

3. The United States will encourage the closest possible integration between EDC forces on the one hand, and U. S. and North Atlantic Treaty forces on the other.

4. The United States will continue, "in conformity with my recommendations to Congress, to seek means of extending to the Atlantic community increased security by sharing in greater measure information with respect to the military utilization of new weapons and techniques for the improvement of the collective defense."

Secrets Not Shared

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, told newsmen that that pledge means sharing of information regarding the use and effects of hydrogen bombs and atomic weapons on both military and civilian personnel. The pledge does not apply, Hagerty added, to production secrets.

5. In line with its policy of "full and continuing support for maintenance and the integrity and unity of EDC, the United States will 're-

St. Louis Policeman Convicted For Lying About Lost Ransom

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A federal court jury has convicted Louis Shoulters, the veteran police officer who broke the Greenlease kidnapping case, of lying about the handling of the ransom money.

A half year ago Shoulters, who spent more than a quarter of a century on the St. Louis police force, was hailed as a hero after he arrested Carl Austin Hall, Hall and his partner, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, were executed for kidnapping and killing 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

May Get 5 Years

Thursday the federal jury found Shoulters guilty of lying about his handling of two money-stuffed suitcases found in Hall's room.

Shoulters was charged with committing perjury in testimony early this year before a federal grand jury. He maintained the suitcases were brought into the police station 15 to 20 minutes after Hall was booked. The government said they weren't brought in until more than an hour later.

Of the $600,000 ransom money paid to Hall by Robert C. Greenlease, wealthy Kansas City automobile dealer, $303,720 still is missing.

The former police lieutenant was granted 15 days in which to file a motion for a new trial. Sentence was deferred pending possible filing of the motion. The maximum penalty is five years imprisonment and $5,000 fine.

Patrolman Suspended

Shoulters was the second person convicted as the result of a grand jury investigation into the missing ransom money. Elmer Dolan, patrolman who aided in the arrest of Hall, also was convicted on a perjury charge. Dolan, suspended by the St. Louis police force, has filed a motion for a new trial.

Shoulters resigned in anger from the St. Louis force last year after the police board began an inquiry into Hall's arrest.

The kidnapping of Bobby Greenlease took place in Kansas City Sept. 28. He was killed the same day.

Farmer Insists Japan Won War

By ROY ESSOYAN

HONOLULU (AP)—A Japanese farmer, indicted on a charge of violating the immigration law, says Japan won World War II "and you can't make me believe otherwise."

The farmer, Kametoku Tomei, 64, was accused of refusing to file an annual alien address report and the U. S. attorney's office said he insisted that Hawaii is part of Japan.

"Hawaii is a part of Japan," Tomei told a reporter Thursday. "Everything else is a pack of lies."

Tomei's children, all born here and U. S. citizens, left home several years ago. They were angered and embarrassed, said the eldest son, Shigemichi Tomei.

"We tried everything to explain the true situation to him," Shigemichi said. "He wouldn't believe us. I even offered him money to take a trip to Japan to see for himself but he refused."

Asked why U. S. law was in effect if Hawaii is part of Japan, Tomei replied: "It takes time to set up a new administration but the Japanese administration will come within this year."

Rain Spoils Prayers

MATTOON, Ill. (AP)—Not many people showed up Thursday at churches to pray for rain. The day of prayer had been proclaimed by Mayor H. B. Ewing two weeks ago with the city's reservoirs running almost dry.

Reason for the poor church attendance Thursday: it began raining the night before.

C&NW Station Hours Debated

Following a report from the Public Service Commission that it has been assured by the railroad that the Chicago & North Western station ticket office in Escanaba is "open sufficient time before the departure of trains," the Escanaba City Council last night asked for comments from the public.

Councilman Edward J. Cox disagreed with the report. He said he had heard more complaints about the ticket office being closed and said he does not believe the public is satisfied.

The Public Service Commission notified the city that if it is not satisfied it can apply for a hearing, which would be held in Escanaba to determine if the ticket office hours and the depot facilities are adequate.

Ask Public Opinion

Councilman Cox said the C&NW was maintaining "round-the-clock" service at its stations in Menominee and Marinette.

He asked that the matter be tabled until the next meeting of the Council May 6 "to give the public a chance to express its opinion." Presumably if there are sufficient number of complaints the Council will petition the Public Service Commission for a hearing.

In other business the Council acted on the following:

Approved the bid of Champion, Inc., to supply the city with 100 electric watt-hour meters at a cost of $30.25 each.

Approved a recommendation of the city manager to reject all bids received for electric transformers and to readvertise because the electric department made an error in specifying the transformer resistance.

Other Council Action

Adopted a resolution for special assessments for a water main on 20th St. between 5th and 7th Avenues S.; and a resolution for a water main and sanitary sewer in the Goula's Addition. There were no objections.

Gave first reading to a proposed ordinance restricting parking in the vicinity of schools and set May 6 as the date for hearing of objections.

By resolution approved erection of a stop sign at 18th St. and 10th Ave. S.

Approved a recommendation of the Civil Service Commission to change civil service rules to provide time-and-on-half pay for Sunday duty for policemen, effective July 1.

Received a report that the State Highway Department will cooperate in improving traffic signing at the Sylvan Point intersection of M-35 and Lake Shore Drive.

Authorized City Manager A. V. Aronson to enter into an agreement with Northern Motor Rebuilders to install a fire sprinkler system in the city-owned building, with Rebuilders to pay for 60 per cent of the cost over a four-year period.

Anna C. Norton Fund Will Reach $600,000

The sale of the Escanaba Daily Press to Frank Russell of Marquette and two associates will increase the Anna C. Norton scholarship fund by approximately a half million dollars, the report of Andrew M. Skaug, accountant, to the Escanaba Board of Education reveals.

The Anna C. Norton fund now has invested approximately $100,000. Part of this money came from sale of assets of the John P. Norton estate other than the newspaper property and the remainder was from transfer of Escanaba Daily Press accumulated cash to the executor for the investments in the Anna C. Norton scholarship fund.

As of Feb. 28 assets of the Escanaba Press, other than invested capital, totalled $96,747 and liabilities totalled $24,485. To the net assets of $71,262 will be added the $425,000 purchase price of the newspaper.

The purchase price of the newspaper actually is $432,000 but it includes $5,000 in inventory and $2,000 in prepaid insurances that are also included in the cash assets.

The cash assets include $26,237 in trade accounts, not all of which will be available for the scholarship fund. However there will be upward adjustments for earnings between Feb. 28 and the date of the transfer of the newspaper property.

The sale of the newspaper is expected to clear the Delta County Probate Court in about a month. The signed papers have arrived here, together with the check for the property. A deposit of $25,000, placed in escrow in a local bank, was made several weeks ago.

The total scholarship fund will approximate $600,000 and the annual yield, estimated at 4%, will provide about $24,000 yearly for distribution to scholarship winners. The recipients must be graduates of the Escanaba Public Schools and the grants are reserved for the purpose of higher education.

Council-Radio Role Discussed

Does the radio broadcast of Escanaba City Council meetings discourage the appearance of citizens before the Council with suggestions, petitions or complaints?

Some of the councilmen believe that it does have that effect, although they are not opposed to the broadcasting of Council business sessions.

Mayor Harlan Yelland said he favored the broadcasting of Council meetings, but believes that some people suffer from "mike fright" that perhaps discourages them from appearing before the Council.

He said he had that in mind when he suggested to the Council that it might be well, as a matter of policy, for suggestions, petitions and complaints to come to the Council in written form. In this way there would be the opportunity for an investigation and consideration of the complaints beforehand.

The mayor added that he did not want to bar "spontaneous" public discussion at meetings, but wondered that if in the public interest some matters of private or semi-private nature should not "receive a minimum of publicity." Councilman Edward J. Cox declared that the individual citizen should have the right, when he appears before the Council, to say "whether or not he wants it to go out on the air." If he does it is "perfectly all right," but he said he believes some people do not like it.

City Manager A. V. Aronson agreed, adding that a public "suggestion box" is to be placed in City Hall soon to receive citizen comments and suggestions.

NCA Schedule Changes May 1

North Central Airlines May 1 will add a fourth round-trip flight between Duluth-Superior and Minneapolis-St. Paul (Twin Cities) and a fifth round-trip flight between Chicago and the Twin Cities (via Green Bay), Frank N. Buttimer, vice-president, traffic and sales, announced today.

Buttimer also announced that on May 1 the airline will schedule commuter-type service (early morning southbound departures to metropolitan areas and late-evening returns) for cities in northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The new round-trip flights are being added to accommodate the intense vacation travel expected in the North Central region. Buttimer says, and the new commuter service can be provided because of favorable weather conditions which enable the company to overnight aircraft at Hibbing, Minn., and Hancock-Houghton, Mich., northern terminals on the airline's system.

Climate Change Is Reason

The commuter schedules go into effect a month earlier this year. Flight times were altered last fall for lack of hanger facilities necessary for overnighing aircraft at the northern terminals during the winter months. Flights in the northern areas now originate in the Twin Cities, Chicago or Detroit, major North Central Airlines hanger locations.

Specifically, the new services include:

* A 6:55 a. m. departure from Hibbing to the Twin Cities via Duluth and a return flight from the Twin Cities arriving in Hibbing at 9:13 p. m. This also provides an evening flight from the Twin Cities (departs at 7:40 p. m.) to Duluth-Superior. Another round-trip Hibbing flight via Duluth is scheduled for early afternoon. Passengers from Hibbing may make direct connections at Duluth-Superior for North Central flights to Milwaukee and Chicago.

* North Central's Chicago Flight No. 570 which now leaves Duluth at 11 a. m., will depart at 8:25 a. m., starting May 1, providing early morning service from Duluth-Superior, Ironwood, Mich., and Rhinelander, Wis. The "limit-stop" flight will go directly from Rhinelander to Green Bay, bringing faster service for these northern Wisconsin and Minnesota cities.

* A 7:10 a. m. (EST) departure from Hancock - Houghton, providing Upper Michigan cities early morning service to lower Michigan and Milwaukee and Chicago, and an evening return arriving in Hancock - Houghton at 8:03 p. m. The airline also operates a mid-day inter-penninsular round-trip flight. To provide this improved service, the company will overnight an aircraft at Detroit, southern terminus of the route, and another at Hancock-Houghton.

* The fifth "trans-Wisconsin" round-trip flight will provide faster "limit-stop" service to the Twin Cities and Chicago from Wisconsin cities Eau Claire, Wausau, Stevens Point, Green Bay and Oshkosh. The southbound flight arrives in Chicago at 6:26 p. m. (CDT) and the northbound flight in the Twin Cities at 8:03 p. m. (CST).

* This new flight brings Oshkosh its first non-stop airline service to Chicago and brings to 20 the number of North Central flights serving Green Bay.

* Chicago - Milwaukee Flight No. 468, now leaving the Twin Cities at 3:50 p. m., will depart at 5:10 p. m., for evening southbound service from Winona, Minn., LaCrosse and Madison, Wis.

Buttimer reports that the two additional round-trip flights will increase North Central's monthly miles scheduled by 27,219 to 406,132.

Flight Schedule

The early morning flight from Houghton will arrive in Escanaba at 8:40 and leave at 8:43. It will arrive in Detroit at 12:12. A connecting flight at Green Bay will arrive in Chicago at 12:03. The evening flight will arrive in Escanaba at 5:30 and depart at 5:33. This flight will arrive in Detroit at 9:07 and the connecting flight at Green Bay will arrive in Chicago at 8:38 p. m.

The first northbound flight will arrive in Escanaba at 11:55 and depart at 11:59. This flight leaves Detroit at 8:10 and Chicago at 8:30 a. m. The second northbound flight leaves Chicago at 3:30 p. m., and Detroit at 2:50 p. m. The arrival time in Escanaba is 6:29 and northbound departure time is 6:32 p. m.

Council Names Safety Members

Changing its policy to permit the reappointment of citizens who serve as volunteers on city boards and commissions, Escanaba City Council last night appointed seven members to the Safety Advisory Committee.

On motion of Councilman Wesley Hansen the Council rescinded its previous policy of not reappointing members and Mayor Harlan Yelland then appointed the Safety Committee members to fill vacancies. Appointed were the following:

Donald Rheume, Lawrence Erickson, Leo Laviolette, Mrs. Ray Knutson, Mrs. William Weycker, Eleanor Swanson and Jacob Bink.

Action was taken by the Council on other business as follows:

Adjourned to next meeting further discussion of a recommendation of the Civil Service Commission to permit recognition of previous experience in warding pay increments to new civil service employees.

Approved the application of Richer's Market, 229 Stephenson Ave., for an SDM liquor license; and approved transfer of an SDM license at the Hob Nob from Louis Bureau to Warren Johnston.

Rejected a request of Ishpeming that Escanaba send a band, float, or drum corps to Ishpeming on July 31 to participate in Ishpeming's 100th anniversary celebration.

Authorized the city manager to receive proposals for construction of Ground Observer Corps post atop the Delta Hotel, estimated to cost $600.

Marilyn Wants Flock Of Little DiMaggios, She Tells Newsmen

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marilyn Monroe says, "I'm not pregnant, but I wish I were. Joe and I want a lot of little DiMaggios."

On her first day at work since her marriage Jan. 14 to ex-baseball player Joe DiMaggio, the 20th Century-Fox star also told inquiring reporters Thursday.

San Francisco will remain the DiMaggios' home. They'll rent a house here and commute between films.

She's learning to cook but Joe "is much better at making spaghetti."

She declined to say how much her new contract pays her. Some reports have put it as high as $100,000 per picture. Before squabbling with the studio, which put her on suspension until she signed the new pact, she earned $750 a week.

Blind Man Becomes Good House Builder

SCARBOROUGH, Maine (AP)—A year ago 70-year-old Allen T. McConnell decided to take up carpentry. Since then he has remodeled his rural four-room home and currently is adding a 12 to 14 foot bedroom. The next project will be a sunporch. He is nearly totally blind.

He can distinguish only between light and shadow.

His wife, Mary, tells him when boards or studding are level—sometimes helps with the sawing. She also helps find tools her husband misplaces.

Guided by the carpenter's square, he cuts a groove along a board—then discards the square and saws along the groove. For nailing, however, he depends entirely upon touch.

Adding to McConnell's physical woes is the fact that he also is very deaf. He used to depend on lip reading but can't see to do that any more.

Want Two Chiefs:

Councilmen Voice Plan To Abolish Safety Post

Three of Escanaba's five City Council members last night expressed the viewpoint that the position of city safety director should be abolished, and that the fire and police departments should be administered by separate chiefs.

There is now a vacancy in the position of safety director following the resignation of Glen S. Leonard, who left April 1 to take a similar job at Oak Park.

The police and fire departments were combined at the administrative level under a director of public safety in 1949 by Council action. Prior to 1949 fire and police administration was in a chief of police and a fire chief.

Call Special Session
Councilman Jacob Bink brought the matter on for discussion at last night's Council meeting. He said a decision should not be delayed too long.

Following discussion the Council agreed to hold a special session next week, on call of Mayor Harlan Yelland, to take up the subject and arrive at a decision.

Mayor Yelland, Councilmen Bink and Edward J. Cox expressed the opinion that the position of safety director should be abolished and the administration of the two departments separated and returned to the old system of a chief for each department.

Manager Favors Director
Councilman Wesley Hansen expressed no opinion on the subject at last night's meeting. Councilman Robert E. LeMire was absent because of illness, one reason cited by Councilman Cox for postponing discussion until he could be present.

City Manager A. V. Aronson said he favors continuing the position of safety director and is opposed to separating administration of the two departments. Integration of the departments has been only at the administrative level, he noted, but the time may come when higher costs will require a more complete integration. "I am thoroughly convinced in my own mind that elimination of the safety director will be a mistake and a step backward," said the manager. But he added that the decision was up to the Council and that he, as manager, would "do the best I can" whatever the Council decides.

Praise And Blame
Councilman Bink declared that he did not believe complete integration of the two departments, in which firemen and policemen would be trained for work in both capacities, would be feasible. He said he did not believe the fire underwriters "would stand for it."

The city manager noted that integration of fire and police departments is being done elsewhere.

Former Safety Director Leonard was criticized and praised by Councilman Bink. He said that all Leonard did with the fire department was to "pick up reports and compile them."

In the police department, however, Leonard "did a wonderful job" in modernizing it and bringing up to date its system of record keeping, Councilman Bink added.

Against Director
But he declared that "any one of the men" in the police department could do the job. The city manager said perhaps there were some who could after a few more years training.

Councilman Cox said that he is already on record as advocating separation of the two departments, but asked that discussion be postponed to a later meeting when Councilman LeMire could be present.

"I, too, am thoroughly convinced there is no need for a safety director," Mayor Yelland said.

He cited a "little town north of Detroit" that has an integrated police-fire department and said that when there is a fire, police have to be called in from a neighboring town.

Automatic Gasoline Nozzle Is Hazardous Fire Contraption

ANY motorist who has ever driven up to a gasoline pump and has had the gasoline tank of his automobile filled with the use of an automatic nozzle will agree with Chief C. Renner of the State Police Fire Bureau that these contraptions should be outlawed.

Renner has reported that the state police fire bureau is drafting a new flammable liquids code which will outlaw the automatic nozzle.

As a convenience for station attendants the automatic gadget has its merits. And to the credit of the attendant, it can be stated that the time saved by the use of automatic nozzles is used to provide more service to the motorist.

But these gadgets do constitute a fire hazard. They do not always work properly and when they fail it causes a gush of gasoline over the car and on the pavement. The fire risk is obvious and it is serious. Gasoline pouring at a rapid rate from a service pump should be attended by someone who can shut off the flow when desired. A further hazard is the possibility of some loon lurking in the vicinity of the unattended gas tank with a lighted cigarette while the gas fumes are pouring out.

The miracles of mechanism are wonderful but the automatic gasoline nozzle still cannot compete with an efficient gasoline station attendant when it comes to reducing fire and explosion hazards.

FHA Scandal Hits

Eisenhower Administration

THE scandal in the Federal Housing Administration has hit the Eisenhower Administration with a heavy thud.

If there is anything in this mess to cheer about, it is only in the fact that President Eisenhower acted promptly to clean it up when it came to his attention. In his regard at least, the attitude of President Eisenhower differs rather sharply from that of his predecessor when similar odors of dishonesty in government began to permeate the atmosphere of official Washington. President Truman's attitude towards his betrayers was to defend them, to deny that his appointees could be guilty of any wrong-doing.

The FHA exposures indicate even at this early hour that the Federal Housing Authority officers have been more than just lax in their administration. The early reports indicate that dishonest promoters have made millions from government guaranteed loans that were far in excess of the cost of their projects. It is equally evident that this practice could not have been maintained without connivance by FHA officials or criminal inefficiency. The abuses are of such magnitude that dishonesty by government officials was virtually essential to the success of the builders.

President Eisenhower who appointed Guy T. O. Hollyday as FHA commissioner a year ago promptly removed Hollyday from office when the FHA scandal was brought to light. It seems inevitable that more heads will fall as the investigations continue.

BEER TO MINORS

(Marinette Eagle-Star)

A Menasha beer depot operator was fined $400 on charges of selling beer to a minor. The operator pleaded guilty to selling two quarter barrels and a pony of beer to a 17 year old boy. The arrest of the man followed a party of 40 teen age boys and girls at a Neenah home.

Fines, even as much as $400, won't stop the unscrupulous who will sell beer to minors whenever the opportunity presents itself. But there is a way to virtually eliminate such violations and it rests with the governing body of the community which grants licenses. The way to bring about a decided change is for the governing body to revoke the license of any operators charged with such a serious violation as sale to minors. A few revocations bring a decided improvement in the situation.

The average dollar bill lasts about nine months, says the Treasury Department. Ours—nine minutes!

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It is no secret that Joe McCarthy has been nursing a trump card the charge that Communists held up production of the hydrogen bomb and that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, onetime head of Los Alamos, was responsible. Joe had planned to spring this charge in his Texas speech April 21 so its headlines would blanket the newspapers next day when the Senate probe of the McCarthy-Cohn-Army fracas begins.

It has also been no secret that the H-bomb was delayed—not 18 months as Joe alleged—but for about three months. And the story of the delay was published in this column on Jan. 23, 1950, before Joe made any of his charges about communism in government.

The backstage story did not involve Communistic motives, but, as Chairman Sterling Cole of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, a Republican, has stated, honest differences of opinion.

Four years have passed since the question of whether or not the U. S. A. should build the hydrogen bomb was debated by the Truman cabinet, and during that time many people have forgotten the doubts and misgivings of that period. They have also forgotten how Henry L. Stimson, a Republican who served in the cabinets of Taft and Hoover, proposed to Truman that the United States share the secret of the atomic bomb with Russia. Elder statesman Stimson, no traitor to his country, was overruled by Truman, but he sincerely believed at that time, 1945, that we could still get along with Russia and should share our most precious secret.

BACKSTAGE STORY

Here are excerpts from the story of the hydrogen-bomb debate, as recorded in this column when the battle was hot, Jan. 23, 1950, four years before McCarthy decided to dig it up as a national issue:

"At a secret meeting with General Bradley, atomic energy chairman Lillenthal made a last-ditch, emotional plea against the hydrogen bomb. In effect, he said: 'We must exhaust every means of reaching an agreement with Russia to outlaw atomic warfare before we make this bomb. We should appeal over the heads of the Kremlin to the Russian people. They will force Stalin to come to terms.'

"Lillenthal speaks for a tormented group of scientists who made the atomic bombs used at Hiroshima and Nagasaki and who agreed—somewhat against their better judgment—that the bombs should be dropped on enemy cities.

"It is still a secret in the files of the Manhattan District, but the atomic scientists were sharply divided into three groups. One did not want the bomb used at all. They urged that the President announce that we had the bomb and would use it unless the enemy surrendered.

"Group No. 2 wanted the atomic bomb dropped over an uninhabited area as a warning.

"Group No. 3 approved the action taken at Hiroshima. This included Dr. Robert Oppenheimer and Dr. Harold Urey.

"But when the photographs of seared flesh and the medical reports from Nagasaki and Hiroshima came back, these scientists went through the tortures of the damned. Their souls were on fire, and they started a burning private crusade against the hydrogen bomb that has divided the Atomic Energy Commission.

"The spirit of these scientists was expressed by Dr. Oppenheimer to a congressional hearing as follows: 'Many times we scientists thought the war might end before we had a bomb. But some of us did not stop, because we wanted the world to see the atomic bomb. It was to us the greatest argument for world peace.'

STRAUSS STRONGLY BACKED

"These scientists and Lillenthal are planning to organize a lobby of church groups to carry on the 'crusade' after Lillenthal's resignation from the Atomic Commission in February.

"The other side in the hydrogen-bomb argument is championed by a philosopher and ex-banker, Lewis Strauss. Strauss is quoted as saying, 'All hope of international agreement to outlaw the atom bomb was killed when Russia refused to accept the Baruch proposals for inspection. That was the great shock of our times. Now we cannot afford not to make the new hydrogen bomb. We must maintain our superiority over any possible aggressor. That is the chief hope left for peace.'

"From the beginning of the Atomic Energy Commission, Lillenthal and Strauss have been in different corners. During the first year, Strauss was a lone dissenter. He offered to resign, but President Truman refused. Today, Strauss is the majority leader in the commission and his view on the hydrogen bomb is backed by both the National Security Council and the Atomic Energy Committee of Congress.

"The difficult decision of whether to build the dread hydrogen bomb is now up to President Truman."

LOOKING BACK

The above is the basic story of the debate over the H-bomb.

Since then, other details have become known, but it doesn't change the basic story. It has become known, for instance, that the debate over building the H-bomb began right after the Russians exploded their first A-bomb on Sept. 23, 1949. During the debate, however, our scientific work on the H-bomb continued, so that little if any time was lost because of the debate.

One point made during the debate was that the United States had a large enough stockpile of atom bombs to do the work of many hydrogen bombs, and that the only difference between the two types of bombs was that of destructive intensity. A good many scientists, perhaps a majority, believed that, beyond a given point, additional A-bombs or even the H-bomb was a wasteful illusion.

After all these facts were debated, President Truman made the decision himself in late January 1950, and as far as this writer could determine, no question of communism or any other ideology ever entered the picture.

It's about time for your neighbor to bring back your snow shovel—and borrow your lawn mower, roller, and seeder.

Grasshoppers Still Around After 100 Years Of Poisoning

By KENNETH O. GILMORE

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Entomologists—the scientists who chase bugs—are making plans for a big but not buggy celebration this year. It will mark the 100th birthday of organized insect liquidation in America. For it was in 1854 that the U. S. government hired its first professional bug killer.

Some 4500 entomologists in federal and state agencies, schools and business firms all over the country are preparing for a real wing-ding. A century of extermination might well be the theme for their jubilation.

Highlight of the events will be a gigantic banquet in Washington in mid-June. Guests of honor are in for a rough night since the menu should be loaded with entomological delicacies. Grasshopper "au gratin" for example, is always a favorite dish.

This elite group deserves to make the occasion a memorable one. For years they have been obliterating and controlling dangerous insects with zest and imagination. Some old-timers might recall their famous slogan, "Swat That Fly," which swept the nation around 1900 when they waged a campaign to make people aware of the fly as a disease carrier.

Today the watchword is "Fight Your Insect Enemies." For the tiny creatures with their insatiable appetites still manage to eat away $4 billion worth of American food, clothes, lumber and many other things. So the battle goes on. Bug killing is now a multi-million dollar business.

It all started back in 1854 when Asa Fitch was appointed as an entomologist in New York and Townsend Glover became the first federal entomologist. Glover's name will long remain in the annals of entomological history by virtue alone of the poem he wrote while on a trip to investigate cotton insects:

"From red-bugs and bed-bugs, from sand flies and land flies,

Mosquitoes, gallinippers, and fleas,

"From hog-ticks and dog ticks, from hen-h lice and men lice, We pray Thee, good Lord, give us ease."

Entomologists take credit for several unique American traditions. When it was learned a mosquito bite could mean yellow fever they urged precautionary measures.

As a result the early American mosquito net came into vogue, fly paper was accepted in the most genteel parlors and iron beds under netting tents flooded the markets. These beds made an unhappy abode for any insect family, especially when the legs were set in saucers of kerosene to discourage ambitious bed bugs, as was the custom.

Today 10,000 species of destructive insects reside in the U.S. For every one entomologist has scraped the barrel for names, such as pear leaf blister mite, horse-radish flea beetle, banana root borer, strawberry leaf roller and cattle tail louse.

Many of these varieties free-loaded their way into the country with early American settlers, according to the Agriculture Research Service. Before the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912 there were no immigration restrictions against insects from abroad.

Foreign pests still try to hitchhike on passenger and cargo ships and airplanes while inspectors try to keep them out. It's a never-ending war and nobody can predict whether man or the insects will ultimately win.

NEVER-ENDING WAR: Back in 1900, these Montana ranchers got together to mix barn, arsenic, molasses, lemon juice and water into a poison bait to battle grasshoppers. Methods have changed, but the grasshoppers are still around.

Time For Washington Cherry Blossoms Is Nature's Secret

By PATTI SIMMONS

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Don't mention cherry blossoms to the National Capital Parks people. This outfit, a part of the Department of the Interior, gets the same unanswerable question thrown at them every year.

"When will the cherry blossoms bloom"—everybody from grandparents to honeymooners who are planning a spring trip to the Nation's Capital asks it. After 40 years, the government has yet to come up with the answer. It just happens that nature refuses to give up her secret until two weeks before the buds are ready to open.

Questions about the blossoms start in January. By March they're coming in at the rate of 10 a day.

As a possible help to the blossom prediction business the Interior Department's pathologist has been experimenting for years. He brings in budding branches, puts them in water of varying temperature and then keeps them in different temperatures under observation.

Blossom time in even one of the jars is big news.

To those who write early for blooming data Uncle Sam dispatches a form letter explaining the situation. With it goes a promise to send an announcement of the town's biggest tourist attraction just as soon as it can be predicted.

The government's cherry blossom worries don't stop when the blooming starts. There's the capricious Washington weather. Not to mention winds whipping in from the Potomac. Both can work havoc with the delicate pink and white blossoms.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

COLORING EGGS—While some of the more devout among us regret the innocent trappings surrounding the observance of Easter, many subscribe to the old saying: "Easter time is the time for eggs, and the time for eggs is the Eastertime."

The coloring of eggs for Easter is an old custom still enjoyed in this modern age of A-bombs, H-bombs, Communists, Christian Democrats, and Dien Bien Phu—pronounced De-en Be-en Foo. Eggs is pronounced 'eggs,' not 'aigs.'

However you pronounce it, eggs are fun for the whole family at Eastertime. They can be broken, eaten, colored, boiled, fried, scrambled and puffed. Which is more than can be done with most other foods, including those much more expensive to purchase.

WHICH CAME FIRST—The old question of which came first, the chicken or the egg, is more difficult to answer than another question: Which came first, eggs or Easter?

The eggs came first, of course, because people have been eating birds' eggs (and even turtle and fish eggs) ever since man has inhabited the earth.

By combining Easter and eggs, however, a fanciful custom was established that brings enjoyment to children, keeps them occupied indoors on a rainy day, and provides an outlet for youthful imagination in coloring and decorating.

Sometimes older members of the family join in the fun, or at least encourage it. They will gain much in sharing the children's enjoyment of the project.

THE LITTLEST ONES—Easter can be particularly exciting to the youngest members of the family, for they like to believe in the fable of the Easter Rabbit and search for hidden eggs left about the house.

The mythical Easter Bunny, like Santa Claus, has been around a long time and has served well in bringing untold hours of happiness to children. Somehow it doesn't seem right for older folks who loved the Easter Bunny when they were young to now decide that the Bunny has no place in the observance of Easter.

Call it commercialism if you will—but let the youngsters keep a custom that requires only innocent deceit to bring smiles and laughter and happiness to the faces and hearts of boys and girls.

When they grow up they will understand and practice the tradition of colored eggs and hidden candy treats in the name of the Easter Rabbit.

FAMILY PROJECT—In some families the children and parents get together in coloring numerous eggs, making special displays of them, and eating them afterward.

Creation of colorful "egg trees" has become a hobby in some households. The eggs are shells only and they can be kept and added to from year to year.

Other people make collections of eggs of varied sizes and colors, ranging from the tiny eggs of wild birds to the eggs of turkeys and even ostrich eggs.

While such a project has little connection with Easter or its customs, it is educational. Some city folks know so little about eggs that they think they come only from cartons, little knowing the important role a chicken has in egg production.

EGG FEASTS—Older folks in the household will recall the day when Easter was a time for egg feasts.

Breakfast consisted of eggs served in a variety of ways; lunch included deviled eggs and creamed eggs on toast; the supper menu featured enormous omelets.

Growing boys in the household delighted in astonishing everyone by consuming an equally astonishing number of eggs in one day. They appeared to suffer no ill effect.

And when the day drew to its close and the colored eggs were cracked or broken, there was lingering lunches of hard boiled eggs, consumed with the egg in one hand and the salt shaker in the other.

Hearings were originally to start Jan. 12 and the postponement, announced by Labor Committee Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-N. J.), brought protests from Subcommittee Chairman Irving M. Ives (R-N. ## The Doctor Says... Primary Cancer Weapon Is Very Early Diagnosis

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

For some years April has been designated cancer control month by Presidential proclamation and by act of Congress. This is the time when the American Cancer Society raises funds for its activities in the field of research, education and service. It is a worthwhile endeavor.

I do not subscribe to the belief that people need to be scared to death about cancer to do something about it. In fact, too much fear is to be avoided almost as much as carelessness in heeding warning signs.

The person who is terribly frightened of cancer at all times should refrain from reading about the disease.

He or she should merely become informed once and for all about what signs to watch for and pay attention to, and should make a real effort to forget all about it at other times.

THERE ARE IMPORTANT things about cancer, however, which everyone should know. Surely it should be obvious that no cancer can be treated until the patient has consulted a physician and the physician has made the diagnosis.

Early diagnosis is the most important factor. The person who stays away from the doctor in the presence of warning symptoms because he is afraid he will be told that cancer is present is taking a grave risk.

LUMPS WHICH APPEAR on the body should always be suspect. Abnormal bleeding from any of the openings of the body is also always a cause for immediate examination. Loss of weight, which cannot be explained by dieting or other obvious cause, is another thing which should be taken as a reason for consulting a physician.

Of course, cancer in some locations is much easier to diagnose than in others. By modern methods of diagnosis, including X-ray, many cases, even those involving the internal organs, can be discovered early enough so that treatment is satisfactory.

EXAMINATION must be complete and careful. Today the facilities for diagnosis and treatment are so much better than in the past that great strides have been made in the conquest of cancer. More progress lies in the future.

Soldiers Guard Jesus's Tomb; Judas Iscariot Found Hanged

ROMAN LEGIONNAIRES GUARD CLOSED TOMB OF JESUS

This is the fifth of six articles on Christ's last seven days as reported in the style of today's news.

By ORA SPAID
JERUSALEM, Nisan 16 (Saturday)—Roman soldiers today sealed the tomb of Jesus, who was crucified yesterday on Golgotha, for fear disciples of the Nazarene might steal the body.

A group of Pharisees visited Pontius Pilate, the Roman procurator, to ask that the tomb be secured because "that deceiver said while he was still alive, 'After three days I will rise again.'"

The priests said followers of the 33-year-old insurrectionist might steal the body and say their master had risen from the dead.

Pilate ordered the tomb closed with a huge stone and set a guard of Roman legionnaires on watch. The tomb is near the home of the wealthy Joseph of Arimathea, a member of the Sanhedrin, which convicted Jesus of insurrection against the Roman Emperor by claiming to be a king. With Pilate's permission, Joseph and Nicodemus, also a member of the Sanhedrin, removed Jesus's body from the cross and took it to the sepulcher.

Three Women Anoint Body
The body was wrapped in linen and anointed for entombment by Mary, the mother of Jesus, her sister, Mary of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene. The three women were at the cross when Jesus died.

Early today, the body of Judas Iscariot, who identified Jesus for the arrest that led to his death, was found hanged by a sash in an obscure house near the edge of town. Roman guards who removed the body theorized that Judas had taken his own life in remorse for his betrayal of the man he formerly followed.

It was reported by some that Jewish high priests had bribed Judas, but when the former disciple's body was found, his purse was empty.

Meanwhile, it was rumored that Longinus, the Roman centurion who commanded the execution squad, has been arrested in his quarters and may face a court martial. On Golgotha yesterday Longinus, visibly moved when death came to the crucified Jesus, said openly, "Surely this man is the son of God."

Jacob, a Jewish wine merchant, said today the centurion came to his shop after the execution and related how he had come to believe in Jesus.

Longinus's Story Retold
Jacob quoted Longinus as saying:

"As a true son of Rome, I long had only one concern with the Jews—and their priests and prophets—to keep order among the populace. I have heard their talk in the marketplace of a Messiah who would deliver them from the Romans. I have seen men of many descriptions parading as this Messiah. They were a troublesome lot.

"But this man, this Jesus—he was unlike the others. I saw it from the beginning, even though I did not believe he was any more than a man come out of the wilderness to teach a new doctrine.

"That day he drove the merchants from the temple, I knew then that his days were numbered. I was near him many times before this last day and I tell you there was something—a serenity, a gentleness for every miserable creature, and still a spirit of fire—that you couldn't dismiss when you went out from him.

"I watched him when they accused him, when they put him through the sham they called a trial. While they ranted and railed before him like a pack of dogs, he stood silent and accepted their barbs almost with kindness, as one who pitied them.

'He Withstood Them'

"And when the men of my battalion took him to the praetorium, dressed him as a comic king and played their game of mockery, I could not join them. I don't know why—perhaps it was the way he withstood them—without fear, without pleading, with no vengeance. A soldier can admire a man such as this.

"Once, on the way to the Hill of the Skull, he faltered under his cross and the crowd appeared to run him down. I held them back; I must admit it was in the interest of order. And he looked up to me and laid his hand on the side of my mount. He said nothing, nor did I—and yet—but I do not have the words to tell you.

"Yes, I have seen death in many places; I have seen heroes die. But not one died the way this man did. I stood by the cross when he said the words, 'Eli, Eli, lama sabach-tha-no,' that so many of that dirty mob believed to be a cry to Elijah. It was not, I assure you, for I heard the words well. He said, 'My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?' I knew at that moment this Jew was sent from God, sent for a purpose my poor spirit cannot understand. Sent to live among men and to return to the Father when men reviled him.

"I suppose they will punish me for my outburst. I do not know; I do not care. I believe."

Plans Pushed For TV Show In McCarthy Scrap

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) pushed ahead today with scheduled plans for a televised probe of the McCarthy-Army row in the face of demands from the McCarthy camp for another investigation before the public hearings get under way.

Mundt, acting chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee during the inquiry, professed hope the public hearings would start next Thursday as planned despite those demands and reports the Army would be asked to rework its case.

Charges Leak Out
The call for a pre-investigation came from Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Roy M. Cohn, the subcommittee's regular counsel, following the release Thursday of the Army's 29-point "bill of particulars" against the senator and his aides.

Cohn telegraphed from New York for "an immediate investigation" to find out who violated an earlier subcommittee decision not to make public the Army charges until McCarthy's accusations against the Army also had been submitted and could be made public.

Cohn made clear he was not referring to Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), the subcommittee member who gave out the Army list of charges. Symington said he did so because of previous "piecemeal leaks" to newsmen about the Army document.

Accusations Denied
But in his call for an investigation of the matter, McCarthy said in Houston, Tex., that he was "very surprised that Symington violated the Senate rule." And he said any Pentagon officials who "leaked" parts of the report earlier should be cited for contempt.

The Army report alleged that McCarthy and his aides "sought by improper means" and by "threats" against Army people to win favored treatment of a draftee, Pvt. G. David Schine, formerly an unpaid subcommittee investigator.

McCarthy has countercharged that top Army officials were using Schine as a "hostage" to ward off a subcommittee probe of Army treatment of alleged Communists, and that they attempted to divert the subcommittee's attention to other branches of the armed services.

Both sides denied the others' accusations, and it is this swirl of charges and countercharges that the investigations group—with McCarthy temporarily stepping aside as chairman—is trying to clear up.

Celebration Planned For Start Of Bridge

ST. IGNACE — Folks here in the Straits area, where engineers are preparing to begin work on the world's greatest bridge — a $100,000,000 span across the Straits of Mackinac—are preparing for a two-day celebration befitting the occasion.

The two-day affair, scheduled for Friday, May 7 in St. Ignace and Saturday, May 8 in Mackinaw City, is expected to draw from 35,000 to 50,000 persons, and see 35,000 to 50,000 persons, and seems certain to focus international attention on the four-mile wide waterway, linking Lakes Michigan and Huron, which man has wanted to bridge for three quarters of a century.

Sponsored jointly by business and governmental agencies on both sides of the Straits, the commemorative program is in charge of a 12 man inter-peninsula committee drawn from St. Ignace, Mackinaw City, Sault Ste. Marie, Cheboygan, Cedarville, Rogers City, Newberry, Petoskey, Manistique, Gaylord, and Mackinac Island. Two co-chairmen, head up the bi-peninsula group.

Use Silver Shovel
Amid a backdrop of gaily decorated streets, street dances, colorful parades, speeches by visiting notables, public dinners, and spectacular fireworks displays on both sides of the waterway, will be two "groundbreaking" ceremonies—one in St. Ignace on May 7 and another in Mackinaw City on May 8.

Mrs. Prentiss M. Brown, wife of the chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, state agency for which the world's greatest man-made structure is being erected, will "turn the first sod" in St. Ignace, while Mrs. Charles T. Fisher Jr., wife of the Detroit banker who also is a member of the Authority, will repeat the performance in Mackinaw City on Saturday.

A silver shovel for the St. Ignace groundbreaking will be handed Mrs. Brown by Mrs. Grover C. Denny, wife of the Merritt, Chapman & Scott project manager, who is in charge of building the bridge's submarine structures.

75 Bands Participate
Mrs. Nancy Williams, wife of Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams, will be in charge of assembling documents and symbolic artifacts—iron ore from the Upper Peninsula and a miniature automobile from the Lower—for deposit in a cornerstone of the bridge's administration building.

Phillips, chairman of the U. P. division of the bi-peninsula committee, outlined plans for the mammoth commemorating celebration during a meeting of his group in the St. Ignace Council Chamber—a meeting which was attended by Lawrence Rubin, secretary of the Bridge Authority, Herbert Goodkind, representing Dr. D. B. Steinman, internationally known designer of the history-making span, Jack Kinney, also with the Dr. Steinman organization, Grover C. Denny, and C. G. Knoblock, vice president and general manager of Drummond Dolomite Incorporated, Drummond Island, Mich.

All units in the big parade, a central feature of the celebration, wherever from, will participate on both sides of the Straits. Phillips said a total of 75 school bands have been invited to take part.

Speakers during the two day affair will include Authority Chairman Brown, Governor Williams, Dr. Steinman, and other notables.

Nervous Nations Told U. S. Troops Stay In Europe

gard any action from whatever quarter which threatens that integrity or unity as a threat to the security of the United States." In such event, the President said, the United States would consult with the other North Atlantic Treaty nations.

That promise obviously was designed to allay French fears that a resurgence of German armed strength under EDC won't be permitted to threaten the security of France itself. It amounts to a U.S. guarantee that American troops won't be pulled out of Europe after Germany is rearmed.

As in the case of the North Atlantic Treaty itself, the President's promise also applies to any aggression by Russia.

6. The United States regards the North Atlantic Treaty—now as at the time of its ratification—as a part of "indefinite duration." On that point the President said:

"The United States calls attention to the fact that for it to cease to be a party to the North Atlantic Treaty would appear quite contrary to our security interests when there is established on the continent of Europe the solid core of unity which the European Defense Community will provide."

Clear With Congress
There have been some French demands for a treaty amendment saying specifically that the pact is of indefinite duration.

Eisenhower said the essential elements of the U. S. position he outlined have been discussed with both Republican and Democratic leaders in Congress.

He alluded to the principles he set forth and said:

"The United States is confident that, with these principles in mind, the Western European nations concerned will proceed promptly further to develop the European Defense Community through ratification of the (EDC) treaty."

In Washington, Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said the Eisenhower administration should clear with Congress any new long-range commitments to keep U. S. troops in Europe.

Saltonstall, who is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), senior minority member of the group, said in separate interviews they had not been informed of any promise to retain U. S. forces on the continent indefinitely.

Conservative Oriental Christians living here regard the procession as too modern a tradition.

Boat Handling Grads To Get Certificates
At the monthly meeting of the Escanaba Yacht Club Wednesday evening, members voted to award certificates to boys and girls who complete the current course in boat handling. These awards will be made at the EYC's New Member Dinner on April 24.

Everett Cole was made a member of the board of trustees. Dana Peck was appointed to the harbor committee. John Walsh Jr. was named as assistant on the regatta committee to schedule the local races to be held this season.

Ways of expanding the club's pram fleet to accommodate the increasing number of young sailors were discussed. Three ways are being considered: purchase of completed prams as was done last year, building of prams, and a plan used by Green Bay club, which features successfully last season at another the use of boats sponsored by local business firms and allows participation by boys and girls who are not pram owners.

There's nothing like a nice spring day to set the mood for romance, fashion and folly. You can be sure the day after a lazy breeze the mail bag will be full of "tell me please." For instance . . .

Q. My boyfriend is taking me to a formal dance. He doesn't have much money. Is it O.K. to suggest that I buy my own corsage. Should I offer to share any of the other expenses?

A. Unless you are engaged to the boy, I would make no such proposition. Once you assume responsibility for a young lad's finances he is very likely to depend on it in the future. Many a beautiful romance has been spoiled by the good-fellow attitude on the part of the girl. First thing you know when the guy has money, he takes out another girl.

Q. If you like the boy especially and date him often you might spare his feelings (and your purse) by suggesting to him that younger set how to put best feet forward. And if big sister disapproves discreetly when the proper moment arrives, perhaps little Sis will oblige the same way in the future.

Q. My mother has a fit because a boy I like hangs around the house watching television and stays for meals most of the time. He is a nice boy and I like him very much. I am 17 years old.

A. It is not a good idea to see so much of one young man at your age. You should be dating lots of boys and perhaps lining up some for the future. If you get a reputation as a "steady" other boys will pass you by. Then when some interesting pastimes turn up (to which the current Joe will no doubt not be asked or invite you because of his obvious lack of funds) you will miss out on lots of fun. You might not mind now, but later you'll probably regret it.

Q. Is it harmful to use depilatories on the legs?

A. Not if you use reliable brands. But the electric or other razor is a safe efficient method. No matter what you hear razor cutting will not increase the growth of hair, according to the experts.

Plan Tillage Show May 4

A tillage demonstration in Schoolcraft County is scheduled at the Pawley farm eight miles east of Manistique, on US-2, Tuesday, May 4, Clayton D. Reid, county agricultural agent reports.

A second Upper Peninsula demonstration is scheduled in Dickinson County May 6, at the Butler potato farm near Randville.

Research at Michigan State College has shown that conventional plowing, tandem disking and harrowing requires 28 horsepower hours per acre, while once-over methods of plowing with a pulv-mulcher or revolving tiller attached behind the plow requires only 17 horsepower hours per acre, he pointed out.

Six seed bed preparation methods will be demonstrated, on separate plots, and oats and clover will be seeded on all in order to observe grain and hay yields and weed control.

The six methods which will be demonstrated are the (1) conventional with plow, disk and spring-tooth harrow, and Brillion seeder, (2) the conventional alone, (3) the heavy harrow and springtooth harrow, (4) the field cultivator and springtooth harrow, (5) the plow and pulv-mulcher, and (6) the plow and E-Z tiller.

Conventional grain drills will be used in demonstrations except on the first method. The last two methods, plow with pulv-mulcher or E-Z tiller, are referred to as once-over operations.

Rains Should Improve Roads

Heavy rains here Thursday discouraged Easter shoppers but it spelled the possibility of better roads for rural residents of Schoolcraft County.

Road Supt. Albert Ackerman reports no roads in the county are impassable, but that many of them have short sections which are slippery and muddy due to frost coming from the ground.

The rain, he said, was expected to draw the remainder of the frost out and permit the road bed to settle.

County crews, Ackerman reported, are out each day draining, patching and dragging the county's roads. A majority of the Schoolcraft roads are covered with gravel, but some are still dirt roads.

County road crews also are preparing gravel for the old U. S. 2 repair project scheduled this year.

Officials of the Softball Association have been invited to attend the Thursday night meeting of the Babe Ruth League officers and directors. Exact plans for the softball program will be explained at the meeting.

"We want the boys in Escanaba to have an opportunity to play softball if they want to, and if enough interest is shown," Petersen explained.

All youngsters from 7 through 16 who plan to take part in the softball program will meet at Club 314 Monday afternoon at 1:30 with Paul Vardigan.

Hockey Sidelights

Cuff notes scratched at Escanaba's hockey recognition dinner: Appropriate that both the Copper Country and Marquette, from whence Northern Michigan rivalry originates, were represented at the dinner . . . Allan M. Renfrew, Michigan Tech hockey coach, and Rene Adams, Tech public relations, represented the C. C. and Wesley "Wackey" Olson, Marquette hockey coach, represented Palestra-town.

Renfrew surprised everyone with his poise, easy delivery . . . He mentioned beforehand that he doesn't get a chance to talk much, but he displayed a professional manner that made a hit . . . Denis McGinn did a fine job as toastmaster . . . He kept things running smoothly and told a couple of jokes on the players that rang the bell, mainly the one about Jim Ogle and Tony Bukovich tangling . . . In case you're wondering who arranged the pictorial, newspaper clipping and congratulatory message display, it was Dick Perring, genial Sherman Hotel manager . . . Real artistic touch!

Escanaba city council was well represented . . . Jake Bink and Wes Hansen and, officially, it was Harlan Yelland's first public appearance in Escanaba as Mayor . . . In fact, Mayor Yelland had a busy day of it . . . He spoke in Gladstone in the afternoon.

Sheriff Bill Miron's reminiscing about the old days in the Copper Country and about some of the players on Houghton's 1903 world champions rang the bell . . . Miron is a native of Chassell . . . Bill Warrington, of Escanaba, a native of Dollar Bay and friend of several members of the 1903 team, was slated to speak also but he came down with a bad cold Wednesday morning.

Did you see Mrs. Wesley Olson bristle a bit when Renfrew quoted Amo Bessone, former Tech coach, as saying Mark Olson was the best player of all the Olsons? . . . Her Wesley was terrific in his day . . . In fact, they're two of a kind . . . Renfrew explained later when the Olsons were kidding him about it that he made sure he was quoting Bessone and not saying it himself . . . They left it at that on a happy note.

Both Wackey Olson and Renfrew stressed junior hockey development and told what it meant to have artificial ice . . . More than 250 youngsters use Marquette's ring regularly . . . Houghton's Dee Stadium is used steadily by youngsters and Sault Ste. Marie's Pullar Stadium also . . . The Soo even runs an eight-week figure skating school in the summer . . . Renfrew said: "When you get your artificial ice in Escanaba, make sure all the youngsters in town have every chance to use it."

Mark Olson did a fine job of introducing all the players . . . Giving proper credit where credit is due and overlooking no one is a ticklish task . . . Coming in for attention among all those who have helped to keep senior hockey in Escanaba were Brit Hall, first president of the Escanaba Hockey Association; Emil Zitner, two-year president and the man principally responsible for the new seating sections at the exhibition building; the ubiquitous Gust Asp and his helping hand; Archie Freeman, Dr. Harold Q. Groos and Clem Tordeur . . . We forgot Bill Leiper who served faithfully as treasurer until this season.

Members of the current board taking a bow were Wayne Haddock, Fred Hansen, Chuck Johnston, Tom Wilkinson, Harry Wait . . . Others unable to attend were Loren Jenkins, city engineer, Francis Flagstad and John Gannon . . . The work of Engineers Jenkins, Zitner and Haddock and Freeman's contributions have been invaluable . . . Haddock engineered the brace supports for the south balcony that enabled us to pick up 12 more feet of playing surface . . . Just about the time complaints were high around the league about our short rink . . . They've gone along with the short rink for four years because they know we're working for a longer and near regulation size skating surface.

Everyone's asking about the cup . . . "What is the board going to do with the cup? . . . Well, it's going to be engraved first with ESCANABA in big letters, as big as the league will allow, and then the cup will be circulated around the business district so everyone can see it . . . Maybe it will be a springboard to bigger and better winter recreation facilities in good old Escanaba.

Braves Say Raschi Didn't Have A Thing

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Vic Raschi, ace pitcher sold to the St. Louis Cardinals by the New York Yankees during the winter, was anything but impressive in his National League debut Thursday against the Braves.

The big right-hander was belted out after less than two innings. "He didn't have a thing," said one Brave player, not particularly noted for his hitting. "All he was throwing was a slider and even it didn't amount to much."

Raschi, who racked up a 120-50 record with the Yankees, best in the major leagues for an active pitcher, faced only 11 Braves in his brief stint. He walked two, gave up four hits including a 340-foot home run by Joe Adcock, and let in another run with a throwing error on an attempted pickoff at first base.

Raschi, in the clubhouse afterward, avoided comment.

Southpaw Takes Over ABC All-Events Lead

SEATTLE (AP)—Southpaw Frank Tassara of Eureka, Calif., Thursday moved into the all-events lead of the American Bowling Congress with a 1945 score that unseated Carmen Salvino of Chicago who has been the leader since April 7 with 1935.

If Tassara stays on top until the tournament winds up May 3, he will be the first left-hander to win that division since 1925.

Jim Proctor of Pomona, Calif., got a tie for fourth place in all-events with 1926 and eighth place in the singles on a 682.

Walker Cooper, 39-year-old catcher, is the oldest player on the Pittsburgh Pirates' roster.

Red Wings, Canadiens Play Big One Tonight

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens are rated even for their Stanley Cup hockey title game at Olympia Stadium tonight.

A crowd of 14,000-plus is expected to jam the arena for the deciding game in the best-of-seven series.

The Canadiens seek to retain the 37-year-old playoff trophy.

The Red Wings have won the National Hockey League's regular-season title for the last six years but in that time won the Stanley Cup only twice.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president has two speeches prepared to give following the game—one in English if Detroit wins, and one in French if Montreal wins.

The Canadiens are defending champions but the Red Wings are in possession of the trophy at the moment. Campbell asked Detroit to transport the historic 37-year-old cup from Montreal to Detroit.

Detroit is hoping that its big one-two punch of Ted Lindsay and Batting — Sammy White, Red Sox — batted in three runs with a home run, double and two singles in Red Sox 6-1 victory over Washington.

Cardinal Mound Staff Takes Pounding Since Leaving Spring Camp

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Only a few weeks ago Harvey Haddix, Vic Raschi and Gerry Staley were racking up goose eggs in pre-season games of the St. Louis Cardinals.

But in successive starts since the regular season began, Haddix and Raschi were pounded off the hill before they could even draw a deep breath. Haddix got his lumps on opening day, five hits and four runs in less than three innings against the Chicago Cubs.

Raschi made his National League debut Thursday in Milwaukee and the former Yankee ace fared even worse. He was pulled in the second inning after he had been slugged for four hits and as many runs.

Bruton Scores Winner

The Cards fought back to tie the game with a run in the eighth and three more in the ninth but Billy Bruton walked in the 11th and raced all the way home with the winning run on Danny O'Connell's single to right and Rip Repulski's bobble. The 7-6 defeat was charged to reliever Haddix, his second in two games. A record crowd of 39,963 saw southpaw Warren Spahn go all the way for Milwaukee.

Staley, the third member of the big trio, is due to make his 1953 bow in Chicago Saturday.

The only other winless club in the majors is the Chicago White Sox, who dropped their third in a row as Baltimore celebrated its first American League home opener since 1902 with a 3-1 victory before 46,354 wildly cheering fans. Bob Turley, the sophomore speedballer, permitted seven hits and struck out nine for the Orioles. Home runs by Clint Courtney and Vern Stephens sent Virgil Trucks down to defeat.

Reds Remain Unbeaten

Cincinnati's hard-hitting Redlegs remained the majors' only unbeaten team, pounding out an 11-5 decision over the Cubs for their second straight. Jimmy Green-grass, who tied a record with four doubles on opening day, added a fifth two-bagger and walloped a bases-loaded home run to highlight a six-run seventh for Cincinnati.

A slim gathering of 12,498 at Ebbets Field were rewarded by a 7-4 Brooklyn victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Three Dodger home runs, all off loser Max Surkont, accounted for six runs. Roy Campanella hit his third of the season with two on, Junior Gilliam hit his second and Jackie Robinson his first with a runner on base.

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the New York Giants 2-0 in a game cut to 6½ innings because of rain. Johnny Antonelli yielded only three Phillie hits but two of them were damaging drag bunts. One was made by Ted Kazanski, who took second on Antonelli's wild throw, third on a passed ball and scored on a fly in the fifth. The second, by Del Ennis, squeezed Willie Jones home with two out in the sixth.

Yanks Move Up

Four teams were tied for first place in the American League with 2-1 records. Detroit handed Cleveland the first defeat of the season, 3-2, scoring the winning run in the ninth on two walks, an infield single by Bill Tuttle and an infield out by Matt Batts.

The New York Yankees joined Cleveland, Detroit and Baltimore at the top, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics 3-0 on Tom Morgan's eighth-inning. Eighth-inning home runs by Hank Bauer and rookie Bill Skowron off loser Alex Kellner broke up a close hurling duel.

Catcher Sammy White drove in three runs with a home run, double and two singles in four times at bat to lead the Boston Red Sox to a 6-1 victory over Washington. Lefty Bill Henry hurled a three-hit.

Joe Page Gets Another Chance

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—From World Series star with the New York Yankees to semi-pro pitcher then back to the major leagues with the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates: That is the story of Joe Page during the past five years.

The one-time great relief artist, eager for another crack at big league batters, vowed today, "I'm back and I'm going to make the most of it."

Ten pounds under his playing weight with the Yankees, Page said he's ready to pitch anytime manager Fred Haney needs him. "My arm doesn't bother me anymore," he said. "I had a bone chip removed from my elbow last winter. That did the trick. I've pitched as much as 25 minutes of batting practice at a time and I feel great."

The big 205-pound southpaw, now 36, made his last appearance in a semi-pro tilt in his home town of Springdale, Pa. in 1952.

"All I could do was push the ball up to the plate — when I could reach it," he said. "I figured I was finished."

In 1949, his next-to-last year with the Yankees, Page won 13 games and saved as many, led the American League in games pitched and then worked in three of the Yankees' world series victories victories over Brooklyn, receiving credit for one of the triumphs.

During his seven years as football coach at Oklahoma, Bud Wilkinson's teams have won 60, lost 7 and tied 3.

Air Force Team Service Champ

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—Andrews Air Force Base of Washington, D.C., with a smashing 91-66 defeat of Great Lakes, today rules as the interservice basketball champion.

Led by Dick Knostman, former Kansas State star who scored 21 points, Andrews completely overwhelmed the all-Navy champions Thursday night with a 55-point last half burst.

Five of the winners' players hit 11 points or better.

Third place in the four-team tournament went to the Quantico Marines with an 89-50 triumph over the Army titlist, Camp Chaffee, Ark. Richie Regan hit for 29 points and Paul Arizin added 24 for Quantico.

The Air Force champions ended their season with a 40-4 record. Great Lakes, with a 24-game winning streak snapped, ended with 43-5.

Michigan Grid Coaching Staff Is Now Complete

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan completed its football coaching staff today by promoting one aide and adding two former Wolverine stars to the group.

Matthew L. Matt Patanelli, defensive end coach last fall, was elevated to top end coach.

Named as aides on the staff were Robert Holloway, a star defensive end of the championship teams of 1947-49, and Don E. Dufek, blocking fullback of 1948-50.

The three appointments completed the staff on the virtual eve of the opening of delayed spring practice Monday.

Former Coaches

The move rounds out the Wolverine coaching organization which was depleted when J. T. White, assistant line coach, went to Penn State as end coach and Bill Orwig quit as end coach to become athletic director at Nebraska.

This spring Holloway will coach the ends while Patanelli stays as aide to baseball coach Ray Fisher.

Tigers Hand Indians First Defeat, 3 To 2

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Detroit Tigers can testify to the restorative powers of rest.

The Bengals rested today before invading the nest of the Baltimore Orioles, long absent from the American League scene.

The Tigers had another rest Thursday when rain temporarily halted their game with the Cleveland Indians after eight innings. Play was resumed after 90 minutes. The Tigers promptly broke a 2-2 tie sending a run slithering across muddy home plate in the final inning for a 3-2 decision.

Delsing Bat Star

It was opening day for the Indians and Jim Delsing's day for Detroit.

The Tigers got nine hits off Mike Garcia. Three of them including a game-tying single, were made by Delsing.

The Tigers winning tally came when Ray Boone and Walt Dropp walked. Boone was forced by Al Kaline. Bill Tuttle loaded the bases by beating out an infield hit. Then catcher Matt Batts was thrown out at first while Dropp crossed home plate.

Garcia and lefty Ted Gray staged a pitching duel over the first seven innings.

Rosen Gets Homer

When Gray gave way for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning he had given up only four hits. Ralph Branca, who got credit for the victory, hurled three-hit ball over the final frames.

Rosen, the American League home run king last year, accounted for a Cleveland run in the sixth with his first four-bagger of the season.

After Rosen homered, the Tigers lay dormant until the eighth just before the rains came. Rookie Frank Bolling tied it up again. He singled, stole second and rode home on Delsing's single.

Business Good, Sales Heads Say

DETROIT (AP)—Representatives of the nation's sales directors agreed Wednesday that business was good, would stay good, and in a lot of ways was better than last year.

The Executive committee of the National Sales Executives, Inc., met in Detroit. John M. Wilson, vice president in charge of sales for National Cash Register Co., Dayton, Ohio, said:

"We find that business is generally good. People have money. There is still the highest peacetime employment in history and industrial expansion is continuing."

Robert A. Whitney of New York, president of the Sales Executives, said that of the thousands of businessmen he interviewed, the predominate feeling is that of prosperity.

Orville C. Hognander, vice president of the G. H. Tennant Co., an industrial machinery firm in Minneapolis said:

"Our industry expects a three to four per cent increase in business this year over 1953."

J. C. Doyle, sales and advertising manager of the Ford Motor Co. said:

"We are using goods faster than we are producing them. At present goods and materials are being consumed at the rate of four billion dollars a year faster than they are being produced."

Nahma

PTA Meeting

NAHMA — A Parent Teachers Association meeting was held at the school Tuesday evening. Preceding the meeting, a third annual rummage sale was conducted. An Easter egg hunt will be held at the Nahma Golf Course Sunday afternoon for all children through the sixth grade. All PTA members are asked to color a half dozen eggs for the occasion. ## Truck In Race With Stork To Hospital

HUNTSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Floyd Case told her minister husband that it was high time they started for the maternity ward of the hospital. The Rev. Mr. Case got out the car and away they went.

A tire went flat. Then Case broke the car jack. He flagged a truck and the driver took Mrs. Case on to the hospital. Using a borrowed jack, the minister changed the flat tire and finally got to the hospital in time to greet his new daughter.

'Facial' Planned For Removal of Capital's Scars

It's only in a "dream" stage at present, but plans are under way to reclaim the depressed areas of Washington, D. C. Model of the proposed improvements pictured above, shows how the southeast area could be transformed and made one of the most attractive parts of the Capital city. Perhaps the largest item in the planned reclamation would be the housing for families now living in slums. At present the plan calls for substantial amount of housing which would be sold at a wide range of prices, and there would be an equally wide range of rental accommodations. An opera house, music hall, convention hall, theaters, skating rink, underground parking lot would complete the renovation. Each residential area would have playgrounds, a shopping area and other facilities. Overall cost is expected to be above $450,000,000.

Student Activities Subject At Soo Hill PTA Meeting

SOO HILL—The Soo Hill PTA heard a symposium on the student activities available to the pupils of the Escanaba Public Schools at its meeting Wednesday evening at the Soo Hill School.

The discussion, led by Allen Mathison, director of student activities at the Escanaba High School, described the program which is designed to give the students the maximum of learning experiences. George Ruwirth, in the capacity of director of curriculum coordination on the elementary level, and Robert Meyers, director of student activities in the Escanaba Junior High School, participated on the panel.

Of Particular Importance

Ruwirth stressed that the so-called extra-curricular activities, such as art, music, recreation and health, should not be separated from the credit courses. "Every experience a child has in school is a learning experience," he said. Music, art and physical education are as important as reading, writing and arithmetic, he explained, and to some pupils these are a more valuable experience in the personality development. Each school system must determine for itself what program can be developed with its financial and physical plant facilities.

The "program of enrichment" embarked upon in the Escanaba schools begins with the kindergarten classes. Music and art expression is encouraged through the guidance of trained teachers who visit each classroom once a week.

The stress in the recreation and health program is on participation rather than competition. The 4th, 5th and 6th grades begin to play inter-school touch football, basketball and baseball for the development of physical coordination.

Junior High School

Meyers explained that the Junior High School program is a natural outgrowth of the activities program of the elementary grades. The string orchestra, bands and glee clubs have had their background in the musical training provided in the lower grades. The intramural athletic program has had its beginning in the lower grades.

In the Junior High School the students social development is expanded in the clubs, such as speech, dramatics, projectionist club and camera club. Informal parties encourage social poise.

The Senior High School is the culmination of the elementary experience, Mathison explained. The participation in the interscholastic events such as the band festivals and the athletic programs contribute to the students' maturity.

The election of officers for the coming school year took place during the business of the PTA. The following were elected: Mrs. Frank Bender Jr., president; Mrs. Arthur Hammerberg, 1st vice president; Mrs. Royal Johnson, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Harry Randall, secretary; Mrs. Merrill Carlson, treasurer.

A committee was chosen to plan a party for May 8 for the purpose of raising money for the Soo Hill School picnic. Members of the committee are: Mrs. Sam Peterson, Mrs. Frank Moersch, Mrs. Allan Kidd, Mrs. Tom Needham, Mrs. Frank Bender Jr., Mrs. Lavern Osmundson.

Industrial Output Dipped In March, Survey Reveals

By FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The President's economic advisers reported that preliminary estimates show industrial production declined slightly in March, to a point about 9 per cent less than a year before.

The slight further drop in production, continuing a trend that set in last August, brought the Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production, seasonally adjusted, to 123, the White House Council of Economic Advisers said.

That meant that production of the nation's mines and factories in March was 23 per cent more than the average of production in the three years 1947 through 1949.

This month's index figure came out in the council's monthly collection of economic indicators prepared for the Joint Congressional Committee on the economic report. This report did not give production without seasonal adjustment.

The economic advisers also reported that the gross national product—the total dollar value of the nation's production of all goods and services—in the first quarter of this year dropped off to an estimated rate of 359 billion dollars a year.

This was 4½ billion dollars, or 1.2 per cent, less than the rate in the last quarter of 1953, and 12.4 billion dollars, or 3.3 per cent, less than the record 371½ billion dollar level in the second quarter of 1953.

Total output was about five billion dollars, or 1.3 per cent, less than the annual rate in the first quarter of 1953, a year ago.

The decline to an index of 123 in March brought production 14 points, or 10.2 per cent, under the high of 137 reached in July of last year.

Two Husbands; 18 Children

DETROIT (AP)—On her 90th birthday Mrs. Minnie Weitzel looked back at her motherhood of two families of nine children each. She had nine children by her first husband, who left her a widow in 1913. Then she married Martin Weitzel, a widower, who also had nine children.

"It was like starting motherhood all over again," said Mrs. Weitzel.

She now has almost 140 descendants and would like to have 180. She said: "That will be 10 times the children I had. And it will sort of round out my life."
